

I believe that there is not enough diversity in broadcasting already and any change to relax the ownership rules would be a mistake. The proposal should be made public and subject to public debate if the real interests of the public are to be served.